

Year of Disaster Puts a Premium on Water Control Works

The Southwest asks federal aid because it has too little water but Florida wants help because it has too much water. From my temporary seat under a Florida palm I quickly grasp the fact that the problems of the two sections of America are alike.

For the year, it will be news to our super-saturated area that Florida has had as much rain this fall that flood damage to cattle, dairy, and vegetable farms is estimated at $1 million dollars. And down in the peninsula state, just as in Arkansas, folks want the whole area to be a "drought" — not merely a few counties.

Rainfall has been heavy and continuous in Florida this autumn, but the back-sacker was the storm which moved in from the Gulf of Mexico last week and added five inches in one session for the central and southern portions. The St. John river basin, west of Fort Pierce, alone sustained an estimated loss of $1 1/2 million dollars.

My copy of the Miami Herald reports that the state has incurred damage to 320,000 acres of pasture land, 120 homes, and considerable mileage of federal and state highways.

Here in Arkansas we are beginning to think in terms of water control to relieve summertime droughts; but the tragedy of agricultural Florida this autumn is that Floridians have already gone to considerable lengths to provide water control, and their specific purpose was to guard against the very disaster that overcame them anyway — too much water in the wet season, meaning summer and early fall.

Due west of Fort Pierce is giant Lake Okechobee, a body of water 20 miles across and a natural menace to a land which is only a few feet above the ocean tide. In the old days rain would put the lake out of its banks and swiftly flood most of southern Florida. But a levee was put around the lake and locks were installed, creating a big and effective water control system. Now Okechobee stores up water in the wet season and feeds it out gradually to the cattle ranges south toward Coral Gables and Miami in the dry season.

This time the Okechobee water control system seems to have worked — but there was trouble east of it. There simply weren't enough control systems like it. And that is usually the story of water control. One good job is a starter; but it takes a large and co-ordinated system to get a favorable final result.

And this explains our problem here in the Arkansas-Texas-Louisiana triangle. The federal government built its big dam near Denison, Texas, merely as a starter for the Red river valley control system. The No. 1 project after Denison the Corps of Engineers has insisted from the beginning is the Millwood dam, authorized for construction west of a line between Fulton and Saratoga but for which funds haven't yet been appropriated.

In this year of disaster, either from drought or flood in one section or another, it would be a good idea to push all worth-while projects — starting with Millwood in our own area.

Fight Looms on Reward for 'Phantom'

By Julius Golden

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — (UPI) — A man charged with the "Phantom of the Turnpike" slayings is convicted in Pennsylvania, a grab-bag style feud may ensue in the little town of Belen, N. M.

There's a matter of $11,000 offered by truck companies for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murder of two truck drivers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

John Wesley Wable, 24, charged with the slayings, was captured in Belen Oct. 11 after being spotted by two young women — Caroline Smith and Midge Harmon of Belen.

For a while, everything was hunky-dory with a pat on the back and a "good work" for the girls. A Pittsburgh reporter called Miss Smith and told her she would be in line for a fancy sum if Wable were convicted of the crimes.

Little Belen exploded and confusion reigned.

The Belen News-Bulletin, a bi-weekly newspaper, ran a banner story. The headline read: "Eleven Thousand Dollar Reward Poses Big Problem After Capture of Murder Suspect in Belen Sunday."

The matter became a town problem. Dist. Atty. Filo Sedillo said: "If feel everyone should claim the reward if Wable is convicted and if they had any connection at all with the events leading up to his capture. This includes about a dozen people in New Mexico."

Judge Caldwell suspended $250.00 of the fine on a promise of good behavior and also fined Cheatham $100.00 for being drunk. Write-in Votes Counted in Small Cities

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — You and some of your friends don't like the unopposed Democratic candidate for mayor of your town at the approaching general election on Nov. 3.

So you agree on a man you believe would make a good mayor, and your friends quietly recruit their friends to write in his name on the ballot.

You know there won't be many votes cast anyhow since the election is regarded as a formality and you think there's a good chance your surprise candidate will wind up with more votes than the party man.

Would such a tactic be effective? That depends on the size of your town.

The maneuver might be legal in a smaller community — classified technically as a city of the second class or an incorporated town — although there is a practically reason why it probably wouldn't.

But it doesn't have a chance under the law in a larger city — a city of the first class. The Arkansas Supreme Court has said so.

A 1935 act said that write-in votes were not to be considered in elections in cities of the first class. Only votes for names printed on the ballot count.

And the Supreme Court last April rejected a contention that the law had been changed by a later act.

The 1935 Legislature passed a bill which would have prohibited consideration of write-in votes in elections in all three types of municipalities — second class cities and towns as well as first class cities. Gov. Cherry vetoed the bill.

If Your Husband Turns Pale This Time of Year, Worry Not, He Picked Wrong Team

By HAL BOYLE

About this time of year does that favorite brute in your life begin to turn pale, thin and languid. Does your husband bolt his supper as if he hadn't seen food since breakfast, and then look absent-minded the rest of the evening, or make mysterious remarks such as, "A guy simply has to win sometimes."

Well, ladies, don't get too worried. Check an deer if he tosses his sleep and mutters:

"Why did I have to pick Adele? What good is No. 38. Should I ride with Michigan State or Michigan?"

Then, even if your name is Esmeralda, don't get jealous and jump to the conclusion he is hot-footing it after some gal called Adele. And don't start buying him blood-building tonics or en-

All Arkansas Politicians Seek New Term

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — All members of the Arkansas congressional delegation whose jobs are up for contest in the 1954 elections will seek new term.

A United Press spot survey today revealed that en. John L. McClellan and all six representatives unquestionably will run re-election. Sen. J. William Fulbright's term has four more years to go, and his position is not up for challenge.

Four of the representatives said flatly they would make races for new terms. The two other would make no direct comment but authorized "speculation" that they would run again. Sources close to these men said there was "no question about it."

McClellan said he probably would make no formal announcement for re-election.

"I made no announcement the last time I ran for re-election," he added. "I'm going to leave the political statements to the other side."

McClellan is expected to have opposition from former Gov. Sid McMath who has indicated he will make the senatorial race.

Dutch Report Russia Holding Two Americans

CAMP FRIEDLAND, Germany (AP) — A group of 34 former Dutch war prisoners who returned from Soviet captivity today reported at least two Americans were among many foreigners still held by the Russians.

The returning prisoners identified the two Americans as "Jim Cox, of Loudon, Okla.," a member of the U. S. Army's military police unit in Berlin, and Leland Towers, of San Francisco, a merchant seaman. There is no Loudon, Okla., listed in the U. S. Postal directory but the repatriates said it could be Lawton.

In Heidelberg, U. S. Army European headquarters and the military policeman was believed to be Pfc. Homer H. Cox, 33, of Oklahoma City, Okla. Army spokesmen said records listed him as a deserter from his unit in Berlin in 1949.

American Tired of Life of Communism

SEOUL (AP) — An American war prisoner who quit the Communists and was returned to the U. N. Command today told a news conference, "I had enough of their life."

Cpl. Edward S. Dickinson, 25, of Big Stone Gap, Va., refused to answer almost every controversial question about why he first elected to stay with the Reds.

"I did not want to say with the Communists any more," he said when asked why he had changed his mind.

Dickinson was among 23 American war prisoners who originally refused repatriation. The others are being held by Indian troops in the Panmunjom neutral zone pending a final decision on their fate.

Dickinson refused to tell dozens of newsmen at an evacuation hospital here anything about his former comrades.

He was asked if force was used to convert him to communism or to keep him from returning home.

"I don't think I should answer that," he replied.

Now Believes $300,000 Never Got to St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (UP) — Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell said today he believes the missing half of the $600,000 Bobby Greenlease ransom "never got here" after it was picked up by the kidnap-slayers near Kansas City, Mo.

O'Connell said he based his belief on evidence found in three days of intensive questioning of officers and other persons connected with the arrest of Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Heady.

The $300,000 ransom was picked up by the pair at a highway junction 10 miles east of Kansas City the night of Oct. 4 but only about $205,000 has been recovered to date. Of that amount, $293,000 was found in Hall's hideaway apartment when he was arrested on Oct. 6.

"From what I know so far," O'Connell said, "I don't think the $300,000 was ever brought here."

Lt. Louis Shoulters, the man who broke the Greenlease case on a "lucky tip" from a cab driver, before the inquiry board shortly before 11:00 a. m. (CST). Three members of the board of police commissioners also sat in on the secret questioning of Shoulters.

The cab driver, John Hager, who led Shoulters to Hall's apartment, said after six hours of questioning by the top-level official he wished now he hadn't done it.

"It gotten so I wish I'd never called the police," Hager said. "You can bet your bottom dollar I'll never call them again on anything."

Hager became the key man in breaking the Bobby Greenlease Mother-kidnap when he telephoned police Lt. Louis Shoulters that he had been driving a wild-spending "good time Charley."

The "good time Charley" turned out to be Carl Austin Hall the narcotics-addicted son of a wealthy Kansas family who matter-minded the kidnapping and murder of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Army to Close Hot Springs Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced yesterday that economy reasons would force a March 1 closing of the Army-Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark.

No new patients will be accepted at the hospital after Oct. 30, the Army added, and any patients remaining next March 30 will be transferred to other service hospitals.

The 400-bed hospital employs 300 civilians and the army said few of them would be needed to maintain the institution on a stand-by basis.

At Little Rock, a "shocked" Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) immediately announced that "I shall do all in my power to have the order rescinded," adding:

"If the order has not been rescinded when Congress convenes, I will introduce legislation to require the continuation of the operation of the hospital."

McClellan said he didn't believe the action could be justified as an economy measure. "I can't conceive of their closing that hospital when it has the benefits of the hot water therapy."

Said McClellan: "I am shocked at the action of the Secretary of Defense. I shall do all in my power to have the order rescinded."

The $15,000,000, nine-story brick hospital was opened in 1937 and is one of the oldest military hospitals in the country.

Council Delays Debate on Trieste

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council voted over Soviet opposition last night to hold off debate on the Trieste issue and cleared its decks for an exhaustive probe into the explosive Palestine situation.

The 11-nation council faces its next Palestine debate tomorrow when it takes up Syria's plaint that Israel is endangering Middle East peace by diverting the waters of the historic River Jordan.

During two wrangling sessions yesterday the council pushed through a U. S. call for a full-dress inquiry into the alleged border incidents between Israel and her Arab neighbors, including the recent Israeli attack on the Jordan claims 60 persons were killed and the village flattened.

Dulles Envoy Seeks Dope on Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special envoy Arthur Dean leaves for Korea today to determine when, where, and on what conditions the Far Eastern Communist powers are willing to negotiate about a Korean peace settlement.

Secretary of State Dulles, having directed this "prudent step" to sound out the Red Chinese and North Koreans, called on Moscow, meanwhile, for "revealing" evidence of what it intends to do concretely about a settlement in Europe.

At a news conference yesterday in a New York speech last night, Dulles made it emphatically clear he is thinking only of dealing with the Reds on specific issues and that he intends to allow them no opportunity to create what he called "the illusion of agreement."

Dean, with a staff of eight advisers and assistants, is flying via Tokyo and Seoul to Panmunjom, he will talk with U. S. military and diplomatic leaders in Tokyo Friday and with President Syngman Rhee and U. S. officials in Seoul Saturday. He will go to Panmunjom to meet with Red Chinese and North Korean representatives Monday.

Godfrey Fires Two From His Program

NEW YORK (UP) — Radio-television star Arthur Godfrey was reported today to have fired two musicians from his "family" because a recording company which they own produced a record featuring Don McNeill, a radio personality on a rival network.

E. H. (Bud) Moss, president of Cadence Records and Publications Co., said the McNeill recording was the reason for the abrupt dismissal Monday of Archie Bleyer, music conductor on Godfrey's CBS shows, and Julius La Rosa, a burlap-actor whom Godfrey discovered and helped to stardom.

A spokesman for Godfrey said yesterday that La Rosa and Bleyer left the case because they "wished to devote more time to their record company."

The singer and the conductor organized the Cadence Company some time ago, Moss said neither Bleyer nor La Rosa had anything to do with the McNeill recording, but that Godfrey regarded McNeill as a competitor. McNeill has a program on the ABC network immediately before Godfrey's morning show.

Says Politicians and Not Farmers Are Alarmed

Eisenhower also told a news conference he believes the nation's cattlemen and farmers are taking their current problems in stride and are not as upset about them as some politicians are.

Invitation to Russia Gets Attention

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — To no one's surprise, this winter will probably be like last winter and others before it, with world peace no nearer and the United States and Russia working feverishly on the hydrogen bomb.

At the moment attention is being given an invitation sent the Russians Sunday by Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden and France's Foreign Minister Bidault after a three-day London meeting.

They invited Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov to meet with them Nov. 8 at Lugano, Switzerland, to talk about getting their differences over Germany.

Dulles said last night this invitation to Moscow is a test of Russia's intentions in the matter of peace with the West. But there was no excitement when the invitation was sent.

The foreign ministers were expected to do what they did. This invitation was the latest in a month-long series of notes about Germany exchanged between the West and Russia. In the State Department and overseas, there has been widespread doubt the Russians would accept. If they do, it will become startling if they don't.

Even if Molotov showed up at Lugano there'd be no reason to expect a settlement on Germany, since other meetings on the subject since World War II failed.

The West wants the Russians to let East Germany, which they run, be united with West Germany. In other words, a united Germany. The Russian reason for waiting to let each thing now are obvious. If it could be added to turn the East German into such fervent Communist sympathizers that once Germany was united, Communist Germany could take over the country, a united Germany now would be all in Russia's favor.

But that's contrary to true. East and West Germans have showed their hatred for the Russians, the East Germans by their June riots and the West Germans by the stunning vote to reject pro-West Chancellor Adenauer in September. At the moment the Russians and their East German Communist agents are reported working hard to make the East German like their betters by giving them better treatment, while tightening secret police control to wipe out active opposition.

For some weeks there has been talk that the West was considering offering Russia, in return for a United Germany, some kind of nonaggression pact to assure her against future attack.

But that idea, too, is being talked of skeptically now. Here are some of the reasons why the West might be less than eager in agreeing to a nonaggression pact now:

The Russians would honor it only as long as it pleased them; the West might be lured into a false sense of security by such an agreement; the Soviet Union is its own defense program; and making a nonaggression pact any time Russia wanted to start up the pact; there is no need for a special nonaggression agreement with Russia since Russia and the West are all in a nonaggression pact anyway through their membership in the United Nations.

That the United States is relying on the European defense program — a single European army — as the present most important step in dealing with Russia seems clear enough from the efforts this country has been making to get the single army established.

This is in accord with the basic policy the United States has been pursuing for years: Develop the strength and ability to retaliate

"My wealthy grandfather gave me this $250 wrist watch for my high school graduation," says the office boy, "and my hope of getting through law school depends upon my success in selling 3,000 watches at $1 each."

Well, of course, he only buys one ticket himself, but somehow he wins three years in a row. One year a friend of mine won the watch and when he took it to a jeweler, the man replied when he questioned a $25 repair bill: "The only honest thing about this watch is the crystal. It shows the wrong time clearly."

Now about Adeline. The bookkeeper's pitch was this: "My late wife left me this glorious diamond ring, which naturally belongs on the finger of your wife. I paid $463 wholesale for it 30 years ago."

"As a sporting gesture I am offering you a chance to grab it for $1. There are only 1,500 chances on this punch board, which is based on girls' names. I know your own wife's name is Esterilda, but now are you going to print a name like that on a punch board?"

"So your grandmother's name was Dorothy Dorothy to go, how about taking Adeline?" So you think a buck on Adeline."

Let's leave out what happens to the diamond ring, or the bookkeeper's raffle profits. Why do you think he is a bookkeeper. And what do you think that old-fashioned diamond is really worth.

The real lure is that $1 a week the straw boss gets your old man just that will make Russia finally realize any attack might be disastrous and that she had best begin talking peace in earnest.

Last April President Eisenhower laid down a rule for dealing with Russia while Dulles last night plainly showed he is following carefully. Eisenhower told the Russians to show they meant peace by deeds.

Dulles said he wants to deal with the Russians one step at a time and said their agreement to meet at Lugano would be a test of their intentions, or a step toward peace by a deed instead of talk.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a bit of a sag in the stock market today, but at the same time signs of buoyancy were apparent.

On balance the stock market was lower with the decline extending into the major fractions. There were a few exceptions. The loss frequent gains went to around a point at the best.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) Cotton futures were steady today on trade and commission house buying. The upturn was influenced partly by expectations of another weekly report of large cotton loan entries. The report will be issued after the close of trading today. Switching from nearby December to later months was active.

Afternoon prices were 20 to 30 cents a bale higher than the previous close, December 32.93, March 32.39 and May 33.67.

Record Purchase of Poll Taxes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Poll tax receipts had been purchased by 332,071 Arkansians as of Oct. 1, a record for a non-presidential election year.

Deputy State Auditor Paris Stovall said the figure was a preliminary one, but any revision still wouldn't effect the record.

The 1950 total of 322,783 poll tax receipts was the previous high.

Oct. 1 was the deadline for paying poll taxes to vote in all elections up to Oct. 1, 1954. Voting interest apparently has been spurred by next summer's Democratic primaries in which a governor and a U. S. senator will be nominated.

Pleads Guilty for Robbery Attempt

FORT SMITH (AP) — Coy Eldon Brown, 26, of Waldron, Ark., pleaded guilty yesterday in Federal court to a charge of entering the Bank of Mansfield, Ark., with intent to commit larceny.

Brown was remanded to custody of U. S. Marshal Louis Green.

A charge of aiding and abetting in the attempted robbery against Edith Louis Young, 24, of Crossland, Tenn., was dismissed.

A would-be robber entered the bank Oct. 12, but fled without any money after his gun jammed. A blonde waiting in a getaway car escaped with the gunman, but the pair was captured in Oklahoma about an hour after the incident.

Dulles Believes Meet Might Relax Tension

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles says the recent foreign ministers meeting in London "sought unifying principle" which might relax tension in the world but "avoided platitudes without practical relevancy."

Dulles adds that what the meeting did do is as important as what it did not, asserting:

"We did not undermine the moral strength of the free world by resort to measures of short-range expediency."

The secretary of state, in a speech last night at the 22nd annual New York Herald Tribune Forum, gave a panoramic view of the talks he had at London with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault. Dulles returned Monday from the meeting.

One of the chief results of the London sessions was the sending to Russia of a proposal for a meeting of foreign ministers at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 8.

"This proposal," Dulles said last night, "will provide an answer to whether the Soviet government is willing to have a meeting on terms which will provide an actual testing of its intentions in terms sufficiently concrete to be significant."

"That is the single project now before the Soviets. Their decision in relation to that is what we now await. We hope that the answer will be affirmative. In any event it will be revealing."

Dulles said a meeting on the foreign ministers level was proposed since "it is our view that few things would be more dangerous than a meeting which produced a fusion of agreement, without the reality of agreement."

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill has suggested a meeting of heads of state of Britain, France and the United States and Russia.

The Secretary of State made these comments on other issues raised at London.

Trieste — "A new concept is in the making which could bury those bitter memories. It would draw Yugoslavia together with Italy and the other NATO allies in a common strategy designed to ensure the safety and well-being of south Europe. Yugoslavia cannot be sure as an independent nation without association with its NATO neighbors."

The Western ministers believe their decision to relinquish the administration of Zone A of Trieste to Italy will pave the way to a final peaceful solution."

Korea — "The division of Korea is wrong and, unhappily, there are similar wrongs elsewhere, as in Germany, but new war is not the way to right such wrongs. They should be made to respond to peaceful treatment applied with patience, persistence and wisdom."

Indochina — The ministers "welcomed" developments seeking to meet the aspirations for freedom of the people of Indochina while protecting them "from being taken over by the enemies of freedom."

Israel — "It is the United Nations which played an essential part in creating the state of Israel. So we agreed to join in asking the United Nations Security Council to take jurisdiction of this matter of recent Israeli-Arab tensions."

THERE'S NO MACIG INVOLVED—Norbert Shemansky, of Detroit, Mich., isn't a circus strongman, although he can lift the underbody of a Chevrolet Corvette high above his head. The secret is—the underbody of the new sports car shown at right is made of resin-impregnated fiber glass mats and weighs 75 pounds.

Highway Offer Must Be Taken Soon

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The time for acceptance by northwest Arkansas interests of a Highway Commission offer, to widen Highway 71 in return for free rights-of-way expires today, but Highway Director Herbert Eldridge said the project would be held in abeyance until the next commission meeting on Oct. 29.

A northwest Arkansas delegation is scheduled to appear before the commission at the meeting, Eldridge said he understood the delegation would have a counter proposal for the commission.

The commission proposed to widen the heavily traveled highway between Fayetteville and Rogers if the right of way were donated.

Old Miss Sued by Negro Student

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A federal suit seeking to force the University of Mississippi to admit its first Negro student may be filed soon.

The Jackson Advocate, a Negro newspaper, said admission to the university will be sought by Negroes' students suits to support enrollment are ready for filing to test the issue.

If such suits are filed they will be the first in modern times involving segregation in Mississippi schools.

The newspaper said the Mississippi count of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will back the litigation. An informed source said a Gulfport Negro, an ex-Army chaplain would seek admittance to the university law school.

The source said the Negro has applied for admittance and was turned down for reasons of qualifications but would contend his rejection was on ground of color.

Meanwhile, Mississippi officials are preparing an equalization program for common schools. It will be presented to a special session of the legislature beginning Nov. 3.

The state has not been challenged on the common school segregation.

U. S., Britain Hold Back Men in Trieste

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain reportedly have decided to slow down evacuation of their troops from disputed Trieste while they try to resolve Italy and Yugoslavia's bitter quarrel over the area.

Secretary of State Dulles had an appointment to review this potentially explosive problem with President Eisenhower today in a personal report on the London Big Three foreign ministers' conference.

Dulles was also reported set to give the President first-hand accounts of proposed Western moves to deal with touchy situations in three other areas — Korea, Germany, Austria and the Israeli border.

Diplomatic sources say Eisenhower and Dulles both believed it could be best to move slowly in evacuating some 7,000 American and British troops now garrisoning Zone A.

Cricket's Call

A male cricket produces its chirping sound thus: A heavy vein on the upper wings has a roughened surface that acts as a file. On the underside of the top wings is a scraper. When the cricket elevates the wings and then rubs the scraper over the file, he produces the high-pitched sound. Only male crickets have these organs.

Iowa State Students Back in Classes

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Sleepless Iowa State College students, rebuffed in their second demand for a holiday to celebrate a homecoming football victory, returned to classes again today.

For the second straight night approximately 3,000 impatient students, poured out over the sprawling campus, marched to the president's house, then blocked U. S. 30 — the transcontinental Lincoln Highway.

The student exuberance was touched off Sunday night by Iowa State's 13-6 grid triumph over Missouri last Saturday. About 4,000 students, demanding yesterday off, wildly demonstrated while police tossed tear gas bombs in a vain effort to dispell the throng.

The students erupted anew last night while neither Ames nor state peace officers appeared to chide the "body" he said. "I'm a freshman for cancellation of yesterday's classes were denied they shouted for 'Tuesday off.'"

Dr. James Hilton, college president, appealed to the crowd, which he estimated at 3,000 last night, to disperse in an orderly manner and go home.

"I'm still happy with the student body," he said. "I'm a freshman here, too." Dr. Hilton was named Iowa state president earlier this year.

Standing while the students, many of them coeds, sat around him on the lawn, Dr. Hilton said it might be possible to dismiss classes for the Parents Day football game with Nebraska Nov. 7. He urged the students to go through proper administrative channels to get their requested holiday.

When somebody shouted, "Do we get Sunday off, too?" the crowd marched off to the Lincoln Highway, stoked up a bonfire as on Sunday, and piled lengths of steel water main across the road.

The highway was opened and closed twice during the night as the students moved off in search of other adventure and then returned.

No injuries were reported during the two nights of demonstration.

Four Crewmen Assumed Dead in Crash

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Four crewmen are missing and presumed dead in the crash of a Navy patrol bomber from Sonnet Point, R. I. in Georges Harbor here last night. Six of the 10 aboard were rescued.

The pilot and co-pilot of the plane have been flown to the United States for hospitalization. Four others are being treated in the hospital at the U. S. Air Force's Kindley Field here. The injuries were not disclosed but they were reported resting comfortably.

The plane was trying for an emergency landing at Kindley Field en route from Sonnet Point to San Juan, Puerto Rico, on a training flight. The plane stalled and crashed into the water. Names of the victims were not released, pending notification of next of kin.

Crewmen from the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Cook Inlet, the Canadian frigate Prestonian, a harbor ferry boat and a Kendley Field crashboat pulled the survivors from the water.

Witnesses said the plane had passed over the field with its right engine trailing smoke.

Ensign E. L. Cope, of Allentown, Pa., deck officer on the coast guard cutter, said the bomber was making a normal landing approach when its landing wheels were suddenly pulled up. It swerved violently to the left and appeared to be completely out of control.

As the plane struck the water, Cope said, the fuselage appeared to break in two, with pieces scattering across the water for 100 yards or more.

Crude Oil Output Below Average

TULSA, Okla. — (UP) — The nation's output of crude oil dropped an average of 12,050 barrels a day last week and hit its lowest total since April, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The average production was 6,284,000 barrels daily. Despite recent production cuts the total output for the year is 1,887,934,775 barrels compared with 1,890,336,050 to this date a year ago.

Only gains reported last week were in Arkansas, up 1,850 barrels, Louisiana, 950; Mississippi, 350, and New Mexico, 100.

Most other areas had losses. Oklahoma's cut was 5,500 barrels daily; Alabama was down 200, California 600, Colorado 700, Illinois 500, Indiana 2,300, Kansas 1,300, Kentucky 400, Michigan 200, Montana 600, Nebraska 1,500, Utah 200, Wyoming 900 and North Dakota 200. The Eastern Fields, Florida and Texas showed no change.

8 Burglaries Solved in Wynne Area

WYNNE (AP) — Cross County Sheriff Joe Wood said today that at least eight burglaries and robberies, including a hold-up of the post office at nearby Tilton, had been cleared up with the arrests of two youths.

Wood identified the two as Elvis Smith, 19, of Route 1, Wynne, and Rayon Turner, 15, who came here a few weeks ago from Valencia, Pa. Smith, he said, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape jail late yesterday.

About $300 was taken from the combination grocery and post office at Tilton on Oct. 12 by a robber who held four persons at bay with a 22 caliber rifle.

Wood said Turner admitted the hold-up and related that he gave most of the money to Smith. The sheriff said Smith corroborated the statement.

The post office hold-up was the only theft in which Turner admitted taking part, but Smith confessed to participation in seven other robberies and burglaries since last June 10, Sheriff Wood said.

Wood said Smith ran out the courthouse door yesterday when officers started to transfer him from the sheriff's office to a cell. He ran several blocks but stopped when pursuing deputies fired over his head.

Wood said filing of charges against the two youths awaited return of Deputy Prosecutor H. G. Proctor Jr., who is out of the state.

The two were arrested yesterday by sheriff's deputies and a post office inspector.

Sex Ring in WAC Ranks Broken Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Times-Herald reported today that army investigators have "broken up a ring" of approximately 25 women members of the armed forces who, the investigators charged, engaged in abnormal sex practices.

It said the crackdown stemmed from charges made last month by a 19-year-old WAC private, who is currently under treatment at a local army hospital.

Half a dozen of the group were said to have confirmed the WAC's disclosures. Most of the 25 were said to be WACs, but "three or four" were reported as navy WAVES. All were described as enlisted personnel.

None of the women was identified by name.

The Times-Herald said the probe by the army's Criminal Investigation Division was spurred by reports some of the women were assigned to a hush-hush army installation in nearby Virginia. It said sexual deviates are regarded as poor security risks.

The story continued: "Although the CID refused to comment on the progress of its study, it was learned that the women named by the WAC private... have been rounded up and questioned. Disciplinary action

Lowly Yam May Get Into the Chips

By SAUL FELDMAN

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — The lowly yam finally may get in the chips — sweet potato chips that is.

After studying the surplus yam situation for your scientist at Oklahoma A&M think they've finally hit on a solution.

If you can make potato chips from regular potatoes, why not fry up sweet potatoes?

Frank Cross, head of the horticulture department, says experiments show the new chips may soon be the nibbling sensation.

"They're big, golden yellow and crisp with the sweet-potato flavor brought out."

Sum of the first experimental chips have been served this month at field days around Oklahoma and a survey of those munching the delicacy show they're enthusiastic.

"Besides being lolorful and tasty, the chips made from sweet potatoes are healthier," Cross pointed out. "They have all the nourishment of regular potato chips plus vitamins."

Only a small part of the sweet potatoes harvest can be sent to the grocers because the majority is jumbo size and too big and plthy for the table.

However, these big ones are perfect for making sweet potato chips. The sweet potatoes are processed for chips virtually the same as Irish potatoes.

McCarthy to Check at Army Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) goes today to the Ft. Monmouth, N. J. Army Signal Corps radar laboratories to check on security and look for leads in his investigation of alleged espionage.

Accompanying him on the trip is Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens. Their arrival time was uncertain.

McCarthy contends his Senate investigations subcommittee has unearthed evidence that a spy ring formerly headed by the executed atomic spy, Julius Rosenberg, stole secret documents from the installation.

"The group under investigation was said to have used two taverns located in the Georgetown area of Washington as 'hangouts' where meetings and 'dates' were arranged during off-duty hours.

"Lt. Col. Norman Sproul, public information officer for the military district of Washington, said that 'confidential investigations are being conducted all the time along those lines.' He added that he could not verify the number of cases under investigation.

"These cases are a continuing problem in the army-as well as in any community," Sproul said. "The Times-Herald said military regulations require the discharge as 'undesirables' of persons found guilty of homosexuality, except in some cases where psychiatric examinations how that medical treatment or disciplinary action is warranted."

North Korean Car Agency Is Revived

DETROIT — The "Wilkins North Korean Car Agency", which had its beginning in a Communist prison camp under the unsupervising eyes of Red guards, began operations yesterday.

The 28-year-old Wilkins, an auto salesman before he was called into service in Korea, was shot down in a B-20 in April, 1931, and wound up in a Communist POW camp.

He set up his mythical agency and started "selling" cars to fellow prisoners to pass the time away but was amazed when he found out how much interest the POWs really had in getting autos as soon as they were freed.

Wilkins "hired" two other POWs as salesmen and collected a thick pad of orders for the new cars. The business suffered a setback when the Communists, on releasing Wilkins, took his order pads away from him.

Wilkins is back working for the orders and arranged with the auto agency, for which he worked prior to military service, to handle the sales so the ex-POWs would get discounts.

Wilkins is back working for his old employer, but still carrying on the activities of his North Korean "auto agency."

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... only a specialist medical expert can detect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredients go right to work—kill Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for Jayne's P-W Vermifuge. (The small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.)

Army Prepares Big Welcome for Dean

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army prepared a hero's welcome today for Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, the top American soldier captured by the Communists in Korea.

Honors due ranking heroes and visiting foreign chiefs—greetings by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, music by the Army band, a salute fired by a field gun battery—were arranged for Dean's arrival at National Air port.

Dean, who commanded the first thin line of U. S. resistance to the Red onslaught in Korea in July 1950, spent three years in enemy captivity. Winner of the nation's highest military award, the Medal of Honor, he returned to the United States more than a month ago. He has been resting on the West Coast.

Showdown With France Is Urged

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), declaring America cannot continue indefinitely its manpower and financial commitments abroad, today urged a showdown with France on creation of a European army.

Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, spoke out in an interview after Secretary of Defense Wilson had told a news conference yesterday he believed in the long run development of new weapons would permit a cut in United States troop strength in Europe. Wilson didn't define "long run."

Wilson said cryptically that "whether we take our load in air power or in ground troops is a thing that has to be worked out." This may have been hint of a future decision by the United States to pull back some of its infantry strength in Europe, now the equivalent of six Army divisions.

Stennis, a member of a subcommittee which reported last week after a tour of bases that this country has increased aerial striking power in Europe and Africa, said he thinks German soldiers must be brought into the Western ranks.

"We cannot and should not continue indefinitely to carry so large a part of the money and manpower burdens of this program," he said. "No permanent and effective defense of Europe can be carried out without German soldiers in the plan."

Accusations Unfold in Wayne Divorce

By JAMES BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first day of the John Wayne divorce trial caused more eyes to blink than the smog.

The top box office actor's estranged wife, Mrs. Esperanza Bauer Wayne, accused him of drunkenness, wife beating and some extra curricular love making with pretty actress Gail Russell.

Wayne angrily denied all of his fiery Mexican-made accusations and countered with a few choice scandalous charges of his own.

Mrs. Wayne's counsel presented 22 specific instances of cruelty and the Wayne forces countered with 31 more against her.

Life with Wayne, according to the Mrs. was six years of smashing fists and crashing missiles. She said yesterday that he kicked her, cursed her, dragged her around by one foot and bashed her on the nose. Always, said Mrs. Wayne, the real villain was alcohol and Wayne was a willing apologist when the stuff wore off.

Wayne countered that the only times he laid hands on his wife was purely in self defense against what he termed her alcoholic rambages.

Fourth Marriage Goes on Rocks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mary Astor's fourth marriage has ended in the divorce court.

She filed suit yesterday against Thomas G. Wheelock, 40, a stockbroker. The actress, 47, charged cruelty and non-support.

For more than a year, her complaint said, Wheelock has failed to provide her with the necessities of life "because of his idleness, profligacy and dissipation."

She said there is no community property and she asked no alimony.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first American to win the Nobel peace prize.

Headknocking in SWC to Continue

DALLAS (AP) — Head-knocking family warfare is on tap this week for four Southwest Conference teams while three other play another round of intersectional football.

Baylor's Bears take on up-and-coming Texas A&M, while Rice, upset loser to Southern Methodist last Saturday — meets the University of Texas.

In the intersectional tilts, it's Arkansas vs. Mississippi; Texas Christian vs. Penn State; and SMU vs. Kansas.

SMU's varsity took it easy yesterday while other squadmen went through crunching scrimmages. Coach Woody Woodard expected to have some new plays ready for varsity study today.

At Waco, Baylor scout Bill Henderson described the Aggie eleven as the best farmer outfit in "many a year." His warning that "we'll have to score two or three touchdowns to be in the game as they went through stiff workouts."

TCU's Frogs reported in good physical shape as they began preparation for the Nittany Lions.

The surprising Aggies, still rolling along undefeated though once tied, expect steller Halfback Joe Boring back in the lineup this week against Baylor.

At Fayetteville, the Razorbacks, in pretty good shape after their loss to Texas, expect to be in top shape for Mississippi in Memphis Saturday. The Hog regulars took a stiff workout today after a brief rest yesterday.

Texas and Rice both had backfield trouble brewing before their important week-end game. Bill Lott, starting Texas fullback, probably will miss the game because of a kidney injury.

Rice's starter at quarterback was up for decision. Rice tried three against SMU but Coach Jess Neely wants the Owls to pass more, and better.

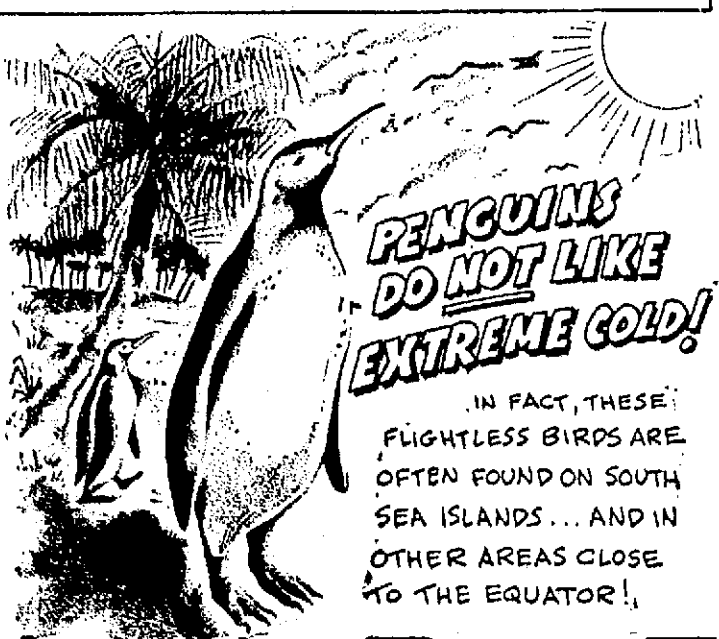

"We've got to do better than 3 out of 11 tries," he said.
